

Benefits to SUPPLIERS

Make your company more attractive to customers by:

- Committing to the Oil and Gas Industry's Supply Chain Code of Practice
- Working in partnership with customers for a more sustainable, competitive and long term future for the UKCS
- Enhancing your reputation in the industry
- Giving you the ability to determine who are your customers of choice
- Working with customers committed to ethical behaviours and fair principles

What's in it for suppliers?

- Code signature enables access to valuable information on purchasers
- Have access to over 100 purchasing organisations who have also signed the code
- Save time and money when bidding for work by cutting repetitive pre-qualification and receiving industry standard ITT's and contracts
- Know which customers are committed to meeting the 30 day payment target
- Give and receive meaningful feedback to and from your customers
- Share plans and offer creative remedies in an environment of limited resources
- Improve chances of winning future work via bid de-briefs
- Gain market intelligence through access to Share Fairs, forward plans, purchasing contacts and networking opportunities

ALL COMBINE TO IMPROVE PERFORMANCE, ELIMINATE UNNECESSARY COSTS, ADD VALUE AND BOOST COMPETITIVENESS

Supply Chain Code of Practice

What obligations are you taking on by signing up to the Supply Chain Code of Practice?

- Agreeing to your UK organisation's supply chain function embracing the principles of the code
- A commitment to work towards compliance with the code and continuous forward drive towards improvement as set against tiered levels of compliance
- Taking ownership and reinforcing the code for use throughout the whole organisation
- Senior management commitment to the code
- Commitment to complete an annual SC CoP compliance survey
- Communication to all staff - cascading commitment to apply the code

